

Jennifer Burge

Jennifer Burge is a dual U.S.-Australian citizen residing in Mexico City. Her career in management consulting took her to Germany in 2001, The Netherlands in 2002, Singapore in 2007, Australia in 2011 and back to the United States from 2018 until 2022 when she relocated to Mexico.

Upon returning to the U.S. Jennifer founded her cross-cultural and international business consulting firm, WorldWise Consulting LLC in Phoenix, Arizona. She has successfully executed projects in 20 countries and has traveled to over 50. Jennifer uses her extensive business operations experience and technology expertise to help professionals thrive in global business environments and to use strategic intercultural communication to advance and expand their businesses.

Her experience includes Fortune 100 companies such as Honeywell and Fortune Global 500 companies Accenture Consulting and EDS. She earned her PMP certification in Amsterdam in 2007. Her certification to teach English as a second language (Business English specialization) was obtained with distinction in Madrid in 2017. Subsequently, she was a fellow at the Intercultural Communication Institute in Portland, Oregon in 2018 and in Santa Fe, New Mexico in 2019.

In 2019, Jennifer became a partner of the Sonora Mining Cluster. In 2020 WorldWise Consulting became the Cluster's first strategic ally in the U.S. In 2021, WorldWise organized Las Mineras: Mega Women of the Megaregion with the Cluster and the U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Economic Affairs. Also in Sonora, Jennifer collaborated with the Sonora Secretary of Tourism as its first U.S. strategic partner to strengthen binational economic ties in tourism and industry throughout the Arizona Sonora region. Since 2021, Jennifer worked closely with New Zealand Trade & Enterprise LATAM to facilitate relationship building in the Mexican mining industry. In 2021, Jennifer was appointed to the Board of Directors of AmCham Canada Vancouver. In 2023, she was also appointed to the ANZMEX Board of Directors as the Mining Group Leader. She is the intercultural communication advisor to the Australian Embassy of Mexico, the Embassy of Denmark in Mexico, and the National Advisor to the Education Committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Mexico.

In August 2024, Jennifer accepted the invitation of Harvard Business Review to join their Advisory Council. Jennifer's most recent projects have been working with CIERTO Global to support multicultural team communications between the US, Guatemala, and Mexico as well as delivering U.S. – Mexico communications strategies to Fulbright bicultural business grantees and English teaching assistance at COMEXUS Garcia-Robles. At present, Jennifer divides her time between Mexico and Canada where she is building indigenous partnerships in the mining exploration sector to increase economic and employment opportunities among First Nations communities.
